CD Article February 09

Here we sit in a deep freeze thinking of the warm days to come when we can again get on our bikes and ride. Until that day arrives we will need to come up with other things to do. For those of you who might not know the whole story on bear and her travels. Here is her story. We know that she is a female because she had a baby. Paulette came out at our anniversary party last year. Her Father, Paul Revere, is getting to old to go on the adventures. K2 ended up taking her home after the party and she was rescued, and then went to visit R2, rescued, then K2 came to our meeting and they managed to persuade Paulette bear to go home with them again. Next, Chapter Q2 came for a visit in September along with visits to chapters R2 and N. Harry, Marcia, Fay and I went over to Caro MI to get bear back and to our surprise we also brought back the traveling plaque. Hamburgler Jr and Paulette bear were together at this time, possibly unsupervised. At this gathering we, R2 and G agreed to swap mascots until our next gatherings. Chapter G went to R2 to bring bear back home and the next week R2 came to our gathering to bring Hamburgler Jr back home. Chapter K2 was at our gathering and took both Paulette bear and Hamburgler Jr with them and put both of them into the trunk of a red trike. We weren't able to go and get bear back until November. That is when we learned that Paulette bear was a she because she had a baby with her. Now that the chapter is parents to a child we needed to know who the father was so we sent for a DNA report that showed that Hamburgler Jr was indeed the father. At this point we need to work with R2 on child support and visitation rights. We had them served with the proper papers for child support. We also had chapter K2 served, suing them for an undisclosed amount of money for child endangerment and not providing proper supervision of a minor child. As you can see some of the chapter members have had a great time traveling around the state getting our mascot back or taking some other chapter's mascot. We hope to do a lot more of this over time and also want to travel to get our name on to the traveling plaque more. Anyone in the chapter can go to events for other chapters and get their mascots. You then must take great care of their mascot and bring it to the next chapter gathering for them to retrieve it. If you do get someone's mascot you will need to let Fay and I know so that we can send a ransom note. Fay and I plan on visiting our chapters around the state this coming summer and some we will make chapter rides. This has been a lot of fun for everyone that has been involved and we hope more of you become involved in our fun.

Everyone please remember that we will not be having a meeting in February because of Wingless. Watch your newsletter for the date of our February Dinner. March 8th at Arnie's Bakery and Restaurant at 9a.m. is our next gathering. Doors are open at 8:30a.m.

Rider Education

A while ago, I was sitting and looking out the window, trying to figure out what to write for my February article. The way the snow outside looks, I have some doubts that the weather will actually warm up enough that riding a motorcycle will become possible again.

Intellectually I know it should get warmer, it has always gotten warmer in the spring and I'm sure it will this year despite Global Warming.

After all, it's been doing this for millennia and there's no real reason that it should stop now... I hope. These days when I start out on a spring ride I put on my long underwear, the electric vest, four or five layers on top of that and then cover it with a heavy leather jacket. When it starts to get above 75 I can start taking off layers. The sad thing about it is that I'm only half kidding.

Anyway, I've been riding for 40 plus years and have probably ridden through every combination of wet, dry, hot, windy and/or cold weather up to and including a tornado. As I've become a more experienced rider I've found that it's much more fun if you take your time and dress properly for the weather you're going to be riding through (although there's probably no proper attire for tornadoes).

I've also learned that it's safer. Unlike a car where you are protected from the elements, on a motorcycle you're right out there in the middle of whatever weather you come across. If you've taken the time to dress properly, you'll be more comfortable and because of that better able to pay attention to what's going on around you. That equates to being safer and gives you a much better chance of coming back from your early spring ride in one piece.

Just in case you've forgotten some of the salient points during this long forced lay off, below are a few things to keep in mind.

- * Seventy five percent of all motorcycle accidents involve another motor vehicle
- * 2/3 of the accidents were caused by a motorist who failed to yield right-of-way
- * Over 40 percent of all accidents occur at intersections
- * The most common reason given by the motorist is, "I didn't see the motorcycle."

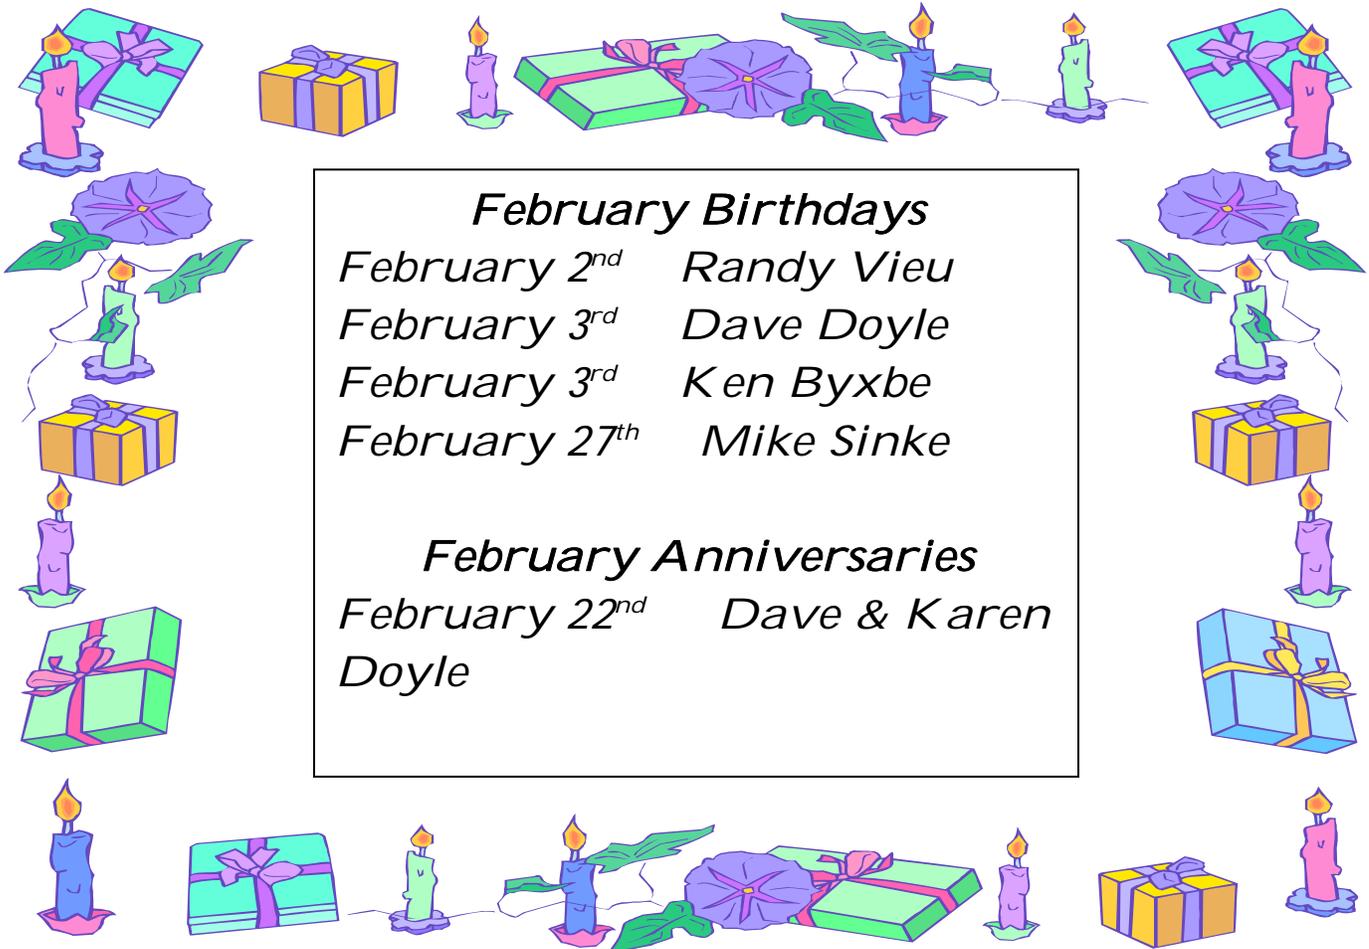

Some causes of accidents involving a motorcycle and a motorist:

- * Left Turns in an intersection: (over 40 percent of all accidents).
- * The motorcyclist has to change lanes/slow down because of road hazards.
- * The motorcyclist is in the blind spot of a motorist who changes lanes.

Put yourself in the best position for the other vehicles around you to see you. You're only a third the size of a car, make sure you're not in someone's blind spot.

Be Seen - Wear bright colors, reflective clothing, and light colored helmets.

Be safe out there. Len.
